

Too Many Toothbrushes

Written by Jordan Brown
Illustrated by Heather Drake

"I know!" C.J. shouted. "Let's give a bunch to Ms. Jacobs, your art teacher."

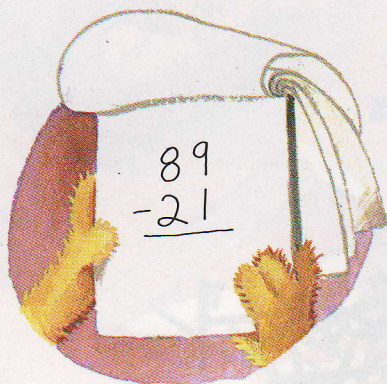

"Good idea," Annie said. "Ms. Jacobs uses toothbrushes to make paintings. I'll give her 21. That's one for every kid in our class."

"If you give away 21, how many will you have left?" C.J. asked.

"Let me try to figure out this one, Jake," Annie said.

How many toothbrushes will Annie have left?

I'll start by counting back by 10s.

